

Please add page 35 to the specification as follows:

Abstract

A method for treating genetic disorders or conditions or diseases in patients in need of such treatments. The method includes administering an effective amount of a compound comprising a cholesterol group or derivative thereof having linked thereto a head group. The head group is more positive than the head group of DC-Chol. The head group may be a straight chain polymeric group having two or more amine groups separated by an ethylene group.